Race and the Media

Ferguson...New York...Indiana...Baltimore...South Carolina. All places where recent events have called on us to take another look at racial issues in this country. Much of what we know about these situations can be directly linked to the media’s portrayals of the events. Our panel of experts will explore with us how these portrayals help to frame our perspectives and opinions about race.

Thursday, August 27, 2015
1:30 p.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Thompson Room, Barker Center, 12 Quincy Street, Cambridge

Panelists Include:

Carole Bell, PhD, Assistant Professor, Communications Studies, Northeastern University

Michael Jeffries, PhD, Associate Professor of American Studies, Wellesley College

Phillip Martin, MA, Senior Investigative Reporter, WGBH-FM

Moderated by: Callie Crossley, host of Under the Radar with Callie Crossley, WGBH-FM, 89.7, weekly panelist on Beat the Press and host of Basic Black, both on WGBH-TV

To register, and for more information, please visit us online at: http://hr.fas.harvard.edu/diversity

Staff members are encouraged to check in with their managers before registering.

The FAS Summer Diversity Panel is part of a broader diversity initiative within the FAS that includes the FAS Diversity Dialogue Series, diversity recruiting, FAS CareerPlus Program, Year Up internships, and Harvard’s Administrative Fellowship Program.