Exploring and Empowering Intergroup Racial Dialogue
Keith Maddox, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology, Tufts University
Sam Sommers, Ph.D., Associate Professor of Psychology, Tufts University

This interactive presentation will focus on the latest scientific research regarding intergroup racial dialogue and will provide practical advice on how to effectively engage in racial dialogue.

Series Opening Remarks by Lisa Coleman, Ph.D., Chief Diversity Officer and Special Assistant to the President for Institutional Diversity and Equity, Harvard University
Thursday, October 29, 2015, 10am -12:00pm, Harvard Hillel, Beren Room, 52 Mt. Auburn Street

But I Don’t See Color! Consequences of Racial Color Blindness
John Dovidio, Ph.D., Professor of Psychology, Yale University

Through lecture and audience participation this interactive dialogue will focus upon the research regarding “aversive racism,” a contemporary subtle form of prejudice, and on techniques for reducing its impact.

Wednesday, December 2, 2015, 10am - 12:00pm, Harvard Hillel, Beren Room, 52 Mt. Auburn Street

Identity Threat at Work
Mary Murphy, Ph.D., Assistant Professor, University of Indiana
Katherine Emerson, Ph.D., Research Associate, Mills College

This engaging workshop will focus on research that demonstrates how situational cues contribute to disparate psychological experiences for racial and ethnic minorities at work and will provide guidance to help alter threatening cues and create more equitable, respectful, and inclusive environments.

Series Closing Remarks by Claudine Gay, Ph.D., Professor of Government and of African and African-American Studies and Dean of Social Science for the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Harvard University
Thursday, March 31, 2016, 10am -12:00pm, Harvard Hillel, Beren Room, 52 Mt. Auburn Street

SAVE THE DATE – Summer Panel
Thursday, August 25, 2016, 1:30pm -3:00pm, Location and details TBD

Register online at http://hr.fas.harvard.edu/diversity

Offered in partnership by the FAS Dean’s Office, FAS Human Resources, and the FAS Office of Diversity Relations and Communications.